

Carter Ledyard Featured in NYLJ Midsize Q&A

August 02, 2018

Jeff Boxer, a member of the Executive Committee and co-chair of the firm's Litigation department, participated in a Q&A on mid-sized law firms for the New York Law Journal. The topics discussed included the firm's unique and particular practice areas, the flexibility and quality of services provided by a mid-size firm like Carter Ledyard, the high level of exposure and experience for associates, the implementation of our cybersecurity practice group, and succession plans that ensure each client receives consistent and dedicated attention.
