

Carter Ledyard Wins Summary Judgment Against Client's Former Employee for Breach of Severance Agreement

January 30, 2020

On January 29, 2020, Supreme Court Justice Tanya Kennedy ruled from the bench, granting summary judgment to Carter Ledyard client Reversible Destiny Foundation, finding that a former employee had breached a severance agreement by assisting in litigation against the foundation, and that the foundation was entitled to the return of the severance payment and its attorney fees incurred in defending the lawsuit. Carter Ledyard associate Madelyn White argued the motion.

related professionals

Madelyn K. White / Counsel

D 212-238-8614

white@clm.com
