

Judith Wallace quoted in Observer Article on New Tribunal for Arbitration of Art Disputes

May 17, 2018

Carter Ledyard Partner Judith Wallace, whose practice focuses on art law, was quoted in an article published by the Observer on the recent creation of a mediation and arbitration process for art disputes under the auspices of the Netherlands Arbitration Institute. Ms. Wallace explained the benefits of arbitration with expert panelists and a potentially streamlined process, balanced against the loss of a right to appeal.
