

contact

28 Liberty Street
New York, New York 10005
D / 212-238-8704
springer@clm.com

I am passionate about the nonprofit sector and have worked for a variety of nonprofits both on the legal and programmatic side. I am committed to providing excellent legal service to allow my clients to best achieve their missions.

Stephanie is an associate in the tax-exempt organizations practice. Her experience includes working with private foundations, public charities, and social welfare organizations on a range of legal matters ranging from formation to mergers.

Prior to joining Carter Ledyard, she served as a Legal Fellow at the Open Society Foundations, where she worked on private foundation governance issues and compliance with international grantmaking rules.

Experience

- Negotiated a PRI loan from a large international foundation to finance client's purchase and distribution of free or low-cost nasal naloxone to harm-reduction groups in order to reduce opioid overdoses.
- Advised a related group of family foundations on compliance with the private foundation excess business holdings rules.
- Provided guidance on public charity qualifications for governmental units and their affiliated entities to a project created by New York City and state officials.

- Assisted clients in assuming effective control of an organization in financial straits via the establishment of a single member structure and majority board control.

Presentations

- "Boards & Bylaws: A presentation and Q&A about our Nonprofit Boards & Bylaws series, co-authored with Plan A Advisors" (September 2023)

Outside of the Office

I like to stay active by going to Pilates and Ballet classes. I love the arts and enjoy visiting museums and galleries.

Practices

Tax-Exempt Organizations

Tax-Exempt Organizations Real Estate

Admissions

Bar Admissions

New York

Education

New York University School of Law (JD, 2022)

The Pennsylvania State University (BA, summa cum laude, 2018)