Carter Ledyard corporate counsel Valentino Vasi was interviewed by Jill Gregorie for the May 30 Ignites article "State Regulator Hits Industry With New Cyber Standards." Asked to comment about other states following Colorado's and Vermont's cyber regulations of investment advisors and broker-dealers, Valentino Vasi said "For those that do, the Colorado amendments can provide a useful template. Hopefully they will be like the ones that Colorado came up with, which give the regulator something to point to, but are easy to comply with and offer enough flexibility to be considerate when examining."
